

Company Profile

This is and Change, a globally-inspired company with a worldwide network of Change Practitioners and consultants.

As Transformational Solution Architects, we support business objectives by aligning people to strategic goals, ensuring that every change initiative is adopted and sustained. We are also a Primary Affiliate of Prosci®, the leading Change Management research organization in the world.

Change

Is in our DNA

We have an extensive background in adult education, Change Management, project management and corporate culture change, mergers and system implementation. We believe that the application of research and methodology can improve business performance and people's quality of life and work.

The South African transformation in the 90s and our personal histories inspired us to embrace the holistic approach and the discipline of Change Management.

Five thousand Certified Change Practitioners

Over 2,000 people have attended our Prosci® Change Management Certification Programs. In addition, we have trained thousands of managers and employees, not to mention dozens of senior executives, all in 20 countries.

As Prosci® Primary Affiliate, we deliver effective Training sessions where participants work proactively on their actual projects with Prosci® tools and research-based methodology, to develop their Change Management plan.

7,580

People trained so far

Over 4,500 change practitioners, executives, line managers, employees, project managers have upgraded their skills with our Prosci® Programs.

Senior leaders, practitioners and project team members from all over the world have attended at least one of our Competency Building Programs. All participants have embraced Change Management and brought it back into their organizations and to their workflows, to integrate it as a practice. That makes for an exponential increase in the number of people who adopt change.
