

Fact Sheet

This is and Change, a globally-inspired company with a worldwide network of Change Practitioners and consultants.

As Transformational Solution Architects, we support business objectives by aligning people to strategic goals, ensuring that every change initiative is adopted and sustained. We are also a Primary Affiliate of Prosci®, the leading Change Management research organization in the world.

Change

Is in our DNA

We have an extensive background in adult education, Change Management, project management and corporate culture change, mergers and system implementation. We believe that the application of research and methodology can improve business performance and people's quality of life and work.

The South African transformation in the 90s and our personal histories inspired us to embrace the holistic approach and the discipline of Change Management.
